Psalm 91

Coloring Devotional

Praise Publishing House

Psalm

91

1 He who dwells in the secret place of the Most High will rest in the shadow of the Almighty.

2 I will say of the LORD, "He is my refuge and my fortress;
my God, in whom I trust."

3 For he will deliver you from the snare of the fowler, and from the deadly pestilence.

4 He will cover you with his feathers.
Under his wings, you will take refuge.
His faithfulness is your shield and rampart.

5 You shall not be afraid of the terror by night,
nor of the arrow that flies by day,

6 nor of the pestilence that walks in darkness,
nor of the destruction that wastes at noonday.

7 A thousand may fall at your side,
and ten thousand at your right hand;
but it will not come near you.

8 You will only look with your eyes,
and see the recompense of the wicked.

9 Because you have made the LORD your refuge,
and the Most High, your dwelling place,

10 no evil shall happen to you,
neither shall any plague come near your dwelling.

11 For he will put his angels in charge of you,
to guard you in all your ways.

12 They will bear you up in their hands,
so that you won't dash your foot against a stone.

13 You will tread on the lion and cobra.
You will trample the young lion and the serpent underfoot.

14 "Because he has set his love on me, therefore I will deliver him.
I will set him on high because he has known my name.

15 He will call on me, and I will answer him.
I will be with him in trouble.
I will deliver him and honor him.

16 I will satisfy him with a long life,
and show him my salvation."

Psalm 91:
Under the Shadow of the Almighty

Psalm 91:1

He who dwells in the secret place of the Most High will rest in the shadow of the Almighty.

This verse is a sacred invitation into intimacy with God. To dwell in the secret place of the Most High is not a temporary visit but a continual abiding. It's about choosing to live in a space of closeness with God—not only in emergencies but every day. The 'secret place' isn't a physical location. It's a heart posture—a space where you consistently turn to God in prayer, reflection, and surrender.

The word 'dwell' implies that this is not a rushed, passing moment. It's where you settle, where you build your life. When you choose to dwell with the Most High, you begin to experience the kind of rest that goes beyond physical sleep—it's soul-deep peace. In a world of anxiety, distraction, and fear, resting in the shadow of the Almighty becomes a sanctuary.

And what a beautiful image: the shadow of the Almighty. You don't cast a shadow unless you're close. That means God is near—so close His Presence overshadows you. The shadow isn't dark or fearful but protective, peaceful, and comforting. Like a child finding safety in the shade of a loving father, we find security in the nearness of God.

Take a moment and ask yourself: Where am I dwelling? Am I living in fear or in faith? Return to the secret place today. Let His shadow become your resting place.

Psalm 91:2

I will say of the LORD, "He is my refuge and my fortress; my God, in whom I trust."

Faith begins with what we believe but is solidified by what we declare. In Psalm 91:2, the psalmist moves from dwelling to declaring. He doesn't just think about God's protection—he speaks it out. 'I will say of the LORD...' There is power in verbal affirmation, especially in seasons of fear, doubt, or danger.

'He is my refuge and my fortress.' Notice the personal nature of this declaration. Not just 'a refuge' or 'a fortress,' but 'my refuge' and 'my fortress.' It's one thing to know God as a protector in theory; it's another to claim Him personally in your daily walk. A refuge is a place you run to when life becomes overwhelming. A fortress is a place of strength, a defense against attack. God is both. He is the place where you go for safety and the stronghold that no enemy can penetrate.

This verse ends with one of the most profound declarations of faith: 'My God, in whom I trust.' Trust doesn't come easily when life feels uncertain. But trust isn't based on circumstances—it's based on God's character. He has proven Himself faithful through generations, and He invites you to rely on Him today.

Take a moment now. Say it out loud: 'He is my refuge and my fortress. My God, in whom I trust.' Let that confession shift the atmosphere of your heart and remind you that you are not unprotected. You are secure in Him.

Psalm 91:3

For He will deliver you from the snare of the fowler and from the deadly pestilence.

This verse reassures us that God is not only a shelter but a deliverer. The 'snare of the fowler' represents subtle traps, the schemes of the enemy that are not always obvious—temptations, deceptions, or emotional entanglements that seek to ensnare your soul. A fowler is a bird-catcher skilled at setting traps without the prey noticing. In the same way, life is filled with hidden dangers that can entangle your mind, heart, or spirit. But the Lord promises to deliver you—He sees what you can't.

The 'deadly pestilence' refers to destructive diseases or plagues. In a broader sense, it also symbolizes the sudden, unseen calamities of life—illness, disaster, emotional trauma. God's deliverance isn't just physical; it's holistic. He protects your body, mind, and spirit. He's the One who reaches into the danger and lifts you out before destruction can reach you.

You may not even be aware of all the things God is rescuing you from. That's the beauty of divine protection—it works even in silence, in places you didn't know needed guarding. Take heart today, knowing that you are not walking blindly. The Lord has gone before you, and He is your Deliverer.

Psalm 91:4

He will cover you with his feathers.
Under his wings, you will take refuge.
His faithfulness is your shield and rampart.

This verse paints one of the most tender images of God's care in the entire Bible. Like a mother bird spreading her wings over her young, God covers you with His protection. To be under His wings is to be completely surrounded by His Presence, love, and power. It's the image of divine intimacy and shelter, where fear is driven out and peace is restored.

When life feels too harsh, too loud, or too heavy, God invites you to hide in the shadow of His wings. This doesn't mean escaping the world—it means finding peace in the middle of it. Like a child running into a parent's arms, we find refuge where we are most safe—in Him.

His faithfulness is your shield and rampart. That means your defense isn't based on your strength or good works but on His unchanging nature. A shield protects from attacks; a rampart is a high wall of defense. When the enemy tries to break in, it is God's faithfulness that holds the line.

Whatever you're facing, you are not exposed or abandoned. You are covered. You are guarded. And you are safe under His wings.

Psalm 91:5

You shall not be afraid of the terror by night,
nor of the arrow that flies by day;

Fear is often most active at night—when the world is quiet and our thoughts are loud. But God says you do not have to be afraid. His Presence is not bound by sunlight. Whether it's the terror of anxious thoughts or the literal dangers that lurk unseen, you are covered. Fear may come knocking, but it doesn't get to stay.

The arrow that flies by day represents open attacks—the things that come at you head-on: criticism, opposition, spiritual warfare, unexpected hardship. Even in broad daylight, when everyone sees, God is your shield. You don't need to hide. You don't need to run. You are already protected.

This verse isn't just a poetic promise—it's a personal assurance. God is aware of every threat, seen and unseen, internal and external. And He says: You are secure. So when fear creeps in, remind yourself that you have a Defender who never leaves your side—morning, noon, or night.

Psalm 91:6

nor of the pestilence that walks in darkness,
nor of the destruction that wastes at noonday.

Here, the psalmist acknowledges two realities: threats that are hidden and those that are glaringly obvious. 'The pestilence that walks in darkness' symbolizes unknown dangers, like a virus spreading silently or spiritual attacks that come without warning. 'The destruction that wastes at noonday' refers to visible, undeniable disasters—the things you can't ignore.

But the promise is this: You do not have to fear either. God's protection is not time-bound or circumstance-dependent. Whether danger is hidden in the dark or rages in broad daylight, He is your defense.

When the world seems uncertain and unpredictable, when breaking news fills your heart with dread, remember this verse. It is an anchor for your soul. God's covering is around you 24/7. You are not alone, and you are not exposed. He sees what you cannot see and shields you even when you are unaware.

Fear thrives in the unknown, but faith flourishes in God's Presence. So rest today—not because there is no danger, but because there is a Deliverer.

Psalm 91:7

A thousand may fall at your side,
and ten thousand at your right hand;
but it will not come near you.

This verse offers one of the most profound illustrations of divine protection. It's not saying you'll live a life without trouble—but rather that when chaos surrounds you, you will remain untouched. Imagine being in a battlefield where many fall, yet you stand. That's not your strength—it's God's shield over your life.

In seasons of global crisis, personal tragedy, or collective fear, it's easy to feel overwhelmed. But this verse reminds you that God's covering is personal. It's not diluted by the crowd. Even when others around you suffer loss, you are seen, surrounded, and specifically protected.

This is not a license for pride but a foundation for peace. You are not immune because of who you are—you are preserved because of who He is. Your standing is based on His promises, not your perfection.

Let this truth settle in your heart today: even when everything around you is falling apart, the Presence of God keeps you standing firm. That's the power of His protection.

Psalm 91:8

You will only look with your eyes and see the recompense of the wicked.

God is a God of justice. While we are often overwhelmed by the injustice around us, this verse assures us that a day of reckoning will come. You may see evil prosper temporarily, but it will not last. God will bring justice—not on our timetable, but in His perfect time.

You are not called to carry the burden of vengeance or judgment. That belongs to the Lord. What you're promised is perspective. You will see with your eyes how God sets things right. And that sight will confirm what faith already knows: God is faithful and does not overlook wrongdoing.

In a world where wickedness often appears unpunished, this verse is a reminder that appearances can be deceiving. God is working behind the scenes, and He will uphold righteousness.

You may not understand why certain things happen, but you can trust that God sees it all. Rest in His justice. Let Him be the Judge while you remain under His refuge.

Psalm 91:9

Because you have made the LORD your refuge,
and the Most High your dwelling place,

This verse shifts from promise to reason. Why does all this divine protection unfold? Because of a choice—a relationship. You made the LORD your refuge. You chose to dwell with Him, not just visit on weekends or in emergencies.

Refuge implies trust. Dwelling implies a relationship. God's promises are tied to His Presence, and His Presence is available to those who draw near. When you consistently seek Him, lean on Him, and rest in Him, you create a space for His power to work in your life.

This is not about earning His protection but choosing His proximity. You made Him your safe place. And in doing so, you've positioned yourself under His covering.

Ask yourself today: Where do I dwell emotionally, mentally, and spiritually? Do I dwell in fear or in faith? In anxiety or in God's arms? The promise is clear—when the LORD is your refuge and the Most High your dwelling place, you are surrounded by divine protection.

Psalm 91:10

No evil shall happen to you,
neither shall any plague come near your dwelling.

This verse is the overflow of verses 9 and 1—when you dwell in the LORD's Presence, protection follows. 'No evil shall happen to you' is not a denial of trials but a declaration of divine shielding. Evil may form, but it will not prosper. A plague may spread but not invade where the Lord guards.

The idea of 'dwelling' speaks again to permanence. This isn't a temporary spiritual visit; it's a life rooted in God's Presence. And that life comes with divine insurance. You are not unguarded. Your physical space, your emotional world, and your spiritual walk are under the oversight of heaven.

When fear of sickness, disaster, or evil tries to shake you, return to this verse. Let it anchor you. Let it be the banner over your home, your heart, and your family. God's protection doesn't mean life will be problem-free, but it does mean His power will surround and sustain you through every threat.

Psalm 91:11

For He will put His angels in charge of you to guard you in all your ways.

You are not walking through life alone. This verse pulls back the veil on the invisible realm: angels—messengers and warriors of God—are assigned to guard you not just in big moments but in all your ways. That means every detail of your life is covered—your travels, your work, your home, your relationships.

God's care includes divine delegation. His angels are real, powerful, and present. They are not passive observers but active protectors. When you are in the will of God, there is a heavenly host surrounding you—on assignment for your safety.

This doesn't mean you won't face difficulty, but it does mean you are never without spiritual support. So when you feel alone, remember this truth: Heaven is not silent concerning you. God has assigned His angels over your life.

Psalm 91:12

They will bear you up in their hands
so that you won't dash your foot against a stone.

This continuation of angelic protection paints a tender image—God's messengers don't just guard you from major attacks; they care about even the smallest stumble. 'That you won't dash your foot against a stone' speaks of the fine details of God's love. He's not only interested in protecting you from disaster but also from discouragement.

Sometimes, we fear the big things, but it's the constant little battles that wear us down. This verse reminds us that God's angels are bearing us up daily. They help you walk strong when you feel weak. They hold you when you feel like falling.

This kind of support is divine grace at work. It's God's commitment to carry you—even when you don't realize it. And it's a reminder that you're never out of His sight or His reach.

Psalm 91:13

You will tread on the lion and cobra.
You will trample the young lion and the serpent underfoot.

This is not just about survival—it's about victory. Lions and cobras represent strong, deadly enemies—both natural and spiritual. But in God's strength, you're not meant to cower in fear. You're meant to trample what once terrified you.

This verse is a bold declaration of authority. God doesn't just protect you—He empowers you. Through Him, you walk over every scheme of the enemy. The battles you once feared are now the grounds of your triumph. The ground you walk on becomes a testimony of God's overcoming power in your life.

In Christ, you're not just surviving attacks—you're stepping on them. You are more than a conqueror. Trust His Word and walk boldly.

Psalm 91:14

"Because he has set his love on me,
therefore I will deliver him.
I will set him on high because he has known my name.

This verse shifts as God begins to speak directly. The tone becomes even more intimate and powerful. 'Because he has set his love on Me...' This is a relationship. It's not just about blessings or benefits. It's about love—personal, devoted love.

God says: because you've chosen Me, I will respond. Love moves His heart. And He doesn't just deliver—you are set 'on high.' That means being lifted, honored, and placed in a position where attacks cannot reach you.

And why? Because you've known His name. To know His name means to know His character, His ways, His heart. It's not about religion—it's about relationship. God delivers and exalts those who love and know Him deeply.

Psalm 91:15

He will call on me, and I will answer him.
I will be with him in trouble.
I will deliver him and honor him.

This verse is God's promise to the one who calls out to Him in faith. Prayer is not a monologue—it's a conversation. God answers. He doesn't just listen—He acts. But even more precious than deliverance is His Presence: 'I will be with him in trouble.'

Sometimes, God delivers us from trouble, and sometimes, He walks with us through it. Either way, we are not abandoned. His Presence in the fire is our greatest comfort.

Then comes the promise of honor. Not only are you delivered, but you're honored. God doesn't just rescue—He restores dignity, value, and purpose. Let this verse speak peace into your storm today. Call on Him—He will answer.

Psalm 91:16

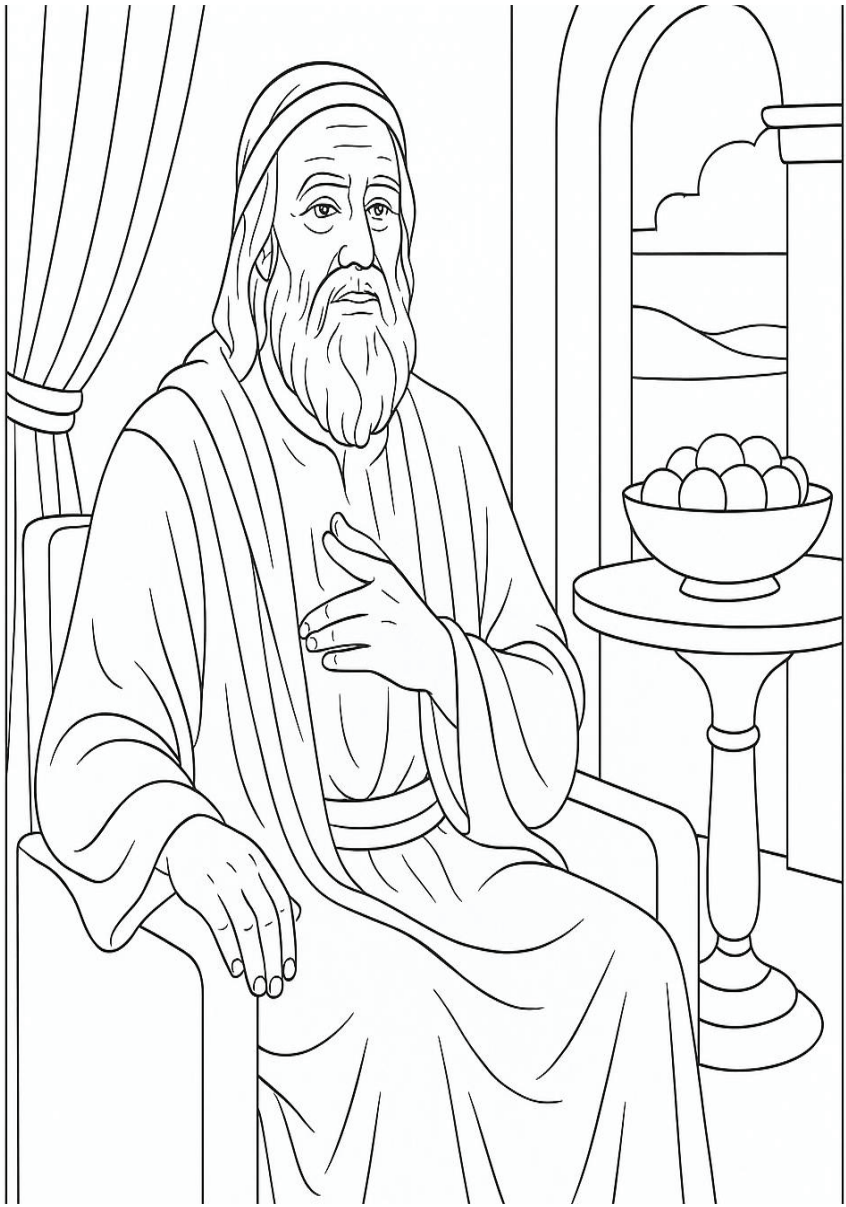

I will satisfy him with long life
and show him my salvation.

This verse is God's promise to the one who calls out to Him in faith. Prayer is not a monologue—it's a conversation. God answers. He doesn't just listen—He acts. But even more precious than deliverance is His Presence: 'I will be with him in trouble.'

Sometimes, God delivers us from trouble, and sometimes, He walks with us through it. Either way, we are not abandoned. His Presence in the fire is our greatest comfort.

Then comes the promise of honor. Not only are you delivered, but you're honored. God doesn't just rescue—He restores dignity, value, and purpose. Let this verse speak peace into your storm today. Call on Him—He will answer.

A Note From Our Heart to Yours

Dear Friend,

Thank you for sharing your email and choosing to journey with us through Psalm 91. By downloading this resource, you've opened the door for God's Word to speak more deeply into your life—and we are honored to walk this path with you.

Our Heart at Praise Publishing House

Praise Publishing House!

A sacred space where the Living Word of God meets the Beauty of Creativity. Here, books are more than printed pages—they are Planted Seeds, meant to grow faith in your heart, your family, and your future. In a world overwhelmed with noise, confusion, and digital overload, we invite you to Pause… Breathe… Reflect. Step into a quieter rhythm, where Scripture Becomes Personal, Coloring Becomes Worship, and Every Story Points Back to the Creator.

Our Mission

To inspire people of all ages to Engage with the Bible through creative, beautiful, and spiritually rich resources that Transform Hearts, Renew Homes, and Revive Communities.

Our Vision

To raise a generation that doesn't Just Read the Bible—but

Remembers it,

Reflects on it,

Colors it,

Loves it,

And Lives it.

Every book we create is born in prayer, bathed in Scripture, and built with a desire to Draw You Closer to the Creator. We don't create for crowds.

We create for That One Person who needs peace.

That one child who needs hope.

That one parent who wants to pass on their faith in a way that lasts. Maybe… that one is you.

We're not here to impress.

We're here to Point People Back to God—

Through every drawing, every story, every reflection.

Because when people truly engage with God's Word—

Hearts Are Healed.
Minds Are Renewed.
Homes Are Transformed.
And Lives Are Never the Same.

Continue the Journey

If this Psalm 91 resource blessed you, we warmly invite you to explore more of our books on Amazon:

- Finding Peace, Comfort, and Strength Through Psalms – a devotional coloring journey through Psalms 23, 27, 91, and 121. (Available in Paperback, Hardcover, and PDF)

- Unlocking Proverbs: The Adventures of Ella & Sam Part 1 – a faith-filled story of wisdom woven into an unforgettable adventure. (Coming Soon)

- The Chronological Children's Bible.Gospel Series Volume 1 – a picture-filled scripture journey designed especially for children ages 4–12. (Coming Soon)

💌 With Gratitude

From our hearts to yours, thank you for letting us be part of your spiritual journey. May the Presence of the Almighty go with you, His peace rest upon you, and His Word continue to light your path.

With love and blessing,

Praise Publishing House

Bible Engagement Through Creativity.
Turn your creativity into Worship.

Visit for more Info :

praisepublishinghouse.com

Follow Us On:

YouTube: Praise Publishing House
Pinterest: praisepublishinghouse
Facebook: Praise Publishing House
Instagram: praisepublishinghouse
Twitter: @PraisePublisher
LinkedIn: Praise Publishing House